

INTRODUCING WILLIS N²

Willis N² is a partnership between independent U.K. brokers, the Willis Group – the global insurance broker – and a panel of leading insurers. Willis N² was established in 2008, and follows on from the ten year success of its sister network, The Willis Commercial Network.

As a member of Willis N² we gain the support and resources of a global broker. The Willis N² network offers a broad range of additional services that are not widely available to non-network brokers while allowing us to preserve our independence, community knowledge and local servicing.

Being part of this successful network enables us to support and strengthen relationships with many more insurers than previously, and this allows us to offer better client servicing with improved products and policy terms. Developing bespoke solutions to suit your business is critical and we can access a number of products that have been developed with insurers exclusively for Willis N². We can also draw on Willis' expertise for complex and speciality insurance covers to achieve even better results for you.

We remain dedicated to helping to support you by:

- Taking time to understand how your business operates and the factors that affect the industry in which you compete.
- Continuing to build our technical expertise so you can be confident in our abilities.
- Reducing your risk exposures cost effectively.
- Achieving competitive premiums and better underwriting terms.

As a community broker and member of Willis N² we continue to work to the same philosophy and principles; offering local, independent, unbiased professional advice while achieving our priority of 'superior service and cover.' Our personal relationship with you is vital in upholding the quality of service that you have come to expect from us.
